

4. Thomas Wright of Jefferson County, Ohio.
 5. David Wright.
 6. Eleanor Wright.
 7. Minerva Wright.
2. Samuel Wright, got 400 acres of land in Harrison County.
 3. Sarah Wright, a bequest in the will of Sarah Provance, and mentioned in William Robinson sale.
 4. Elizabeth Wright, mentioned in Sarah Provance will.
 5. Mary Wright, mentioned in Sarah Provance will.
- A Permelia Rochold, granddaughter, is named by Sarah Provance, as is her daughter, Sarah. We do not place these heirs.

THE LONG FAMILY

Some time prior to 1771, John Long and wife, Ann, with their seven sons and a daughter, left their home in Maryland to settle on the waters of Whiteley and Dunkard Creeks. One record says that John Long was originally from Williamsville, Baltimore Hundred, Sussex County, Delaware, but it is evident that before 1754, he had removed to Queen Anne's County, Maryland, where some of his children were born. It appears that this family stopped for a time in what is now Fayette County, Pennsylvania, where the daughter, Ann, met and married George Debolt. But such a stop was only an interlude and before 1776, they were on the West side of the Monongahela where John Long died about 1785. His will was probated in Washington, Pennsylvania, on May 12, 1785, and is in Will Book 1, pp. 60. No land was definitely granted to John Long, nor is there any record of military service that can be assigned to him with certainty. His will does mention his wife, Ann, and the sons and daughter.

Children of John and Ann Long

1. David Long, probably the eldest son. Served in John Guthery's Company.
2. John Long, Jr., also in John Guthery's Company.
3. James Long, served in John Guthery's Company.
4. Gideon Long, of whom later.
5. Jeremiah Long, of whom later.
6. Eliel Long, served in John Guthery's Company and had other military service for which he received a pension.
7. Noah Long, served in John Guthery's Company.
8. Ann Long, married George Debolt.

Military record of these sons of John Long, in Pennsylvania Archives Vol. 2, Series VI, pages 18 and 19, except for Jeremiah, which is page 171 of the same volume.

FAMILY OF DAVID LONG

David Long, son of John and Ann Long, served in Captain John Guthery's Company, First Battalion, Washington County, Pennsylvania Militia. On July 4, 1790, he had warranted to him a tract of 127 acres of land on Whiteley Creek, which he and his wife, Sarah, sold on April 11, 1804, to James Hartley. (Greene County Deed Book 2, pp. 24).

FAMILY OF JOHN LONG

John Long, son of John and Ann Long (not proven) patented a tract of land on a branch of Dunkard Creek under the title "Mt. Joy," which was on a warrant dated December 14, 1786. Deed Book 2, pp. 322½, Greene County, shows that John Long and wife, Grace, sold a portion of "Mount Joy". The tract had been warranted to both John and Jeremiah Long and probably was divided by amicable agreement.

John Long died in Greene County on December 19, 1838, leaving his land in Dunkard Township, which in 1850, was divided among his five living children. He had served in Captain John Guthery's Company of the First Battalion, Washington County Militia. The Census for 1790, shows four males under sixteen years of age, but only one son shared in the distribution of his estate. (O. C. Docket 3, pp. 164).

Children Named in O. C. Docket

1. John Long.
2. Dorcas Long, married Henry H. Goddard; lived in Marshall County, Virginia.
3. Sarah Long, married (1) Thomas Wilkinson; married (2) Jacob Garrison.
4. Rachel Long, married John Phillips.
5. Elizabeth Long, married George Garrison.

GIDEON LONG

Gideon Long, son of John and Ann Long, was born in Queen Anne's County, Maryland, in 1754, and died in Greene County, Pennsylvania, February 16, 1834. Before his death, on April 10, 1833, he applied for a pension for his war services. At that time he was living in Fayette County, Pennsylvania, but a resident of Dunkard Township, Greene County. He says he enlisted in the month of August, 1776, for three years, under Captain (later Lieutenant Colonel) Wilson, and marched to Kittanning, where he joined his regiment, the Eighth Pennsylvania, under Colonel E. McKay. They marched from there over the mountains, experiencing much hardship and exposure, going to Philadelphia, then Bordentown, New Jersey, joining the main army in the Spring of 1777, at Quibbletown. They went to Bound Brook, from whence they made a rapid march across the Delaware and went into winter quarters at Valley Forge until the Spring of 1778. During harvest time in that year, they started westward, stopping at Carlisle, where they were ordered up the Susquehanna to protect the people about Wyoming and Northumberland, then marched back to Pittsburgh. He does not say it, but Draper Manuscripts disclose that he and his brother, Jeremiah, were ordered picked up as deserters about that time, a term without the stigma that it carries today. After he got back to his home on Whiteley Creek he became an Ensign in Captain John Guthery's Company, First Battalion, Washington County, Pennsylvania Militia and later a captain of Frontier Rangers. It is quite evident that he saw much service in the eight years of the war and he got the well deserved pension on May 8, 1833, almost too late to enjoy it. All this service is confirmed in various volumes of the Pennsylvania Archives. His wife was Hannah Phillips, who at the age of 87, while living at Waynesburg, was granted a widows pension on July 5, 1839.

THE JEREMIAH LONG FAMILY

Jeremiah Long, son of John and Ann Long, was born in Queen Anne's County, Maryland, in 1755-6. His services in the Revolution were similar to those of his brother, Gideon Long, except that he served in Captain William Crawford's Company of Washington County Militia after his return from Valley Forge with the Eighth Pennsylvania Regiment of the Continental Line. After the death of his father, Jeremiah and John Long, Jr., got a warrant for the